

Construction Services group growing

Construction Services, a group within CH2M HILL's Design & Construction Organization, has grown 6 percent since the start of the year to 344 employees working on 138 projects, representing a total estimated construction value of $11 billion.

Construction Services continually benchmarks against the industry to maintain cost-competitive delivery capabilities for the firm's business groups, providing a wide range of projects. Ongoing and recent projects include:

- Providing third-party construction management on a $300 million expansion of the F. Wayne Hill Water Resources Center, Gwinnett County, Ga.
- Third-party management for three separate facilities projects in Oregon, including a new police academy, four state prisons and a new State Office building. The combined construction value of the three projects is $238 million.
- A $10 million contract with the California Department of Transportation for various types of construction management services in northern California.
- The U.S. Army National Guard at Camp Blanding, Fla., recently awarded CH2M HILL a traditional design-bid-build project of a $26 million combined support maintenance shop to serve the needs of the Guard in Florida.
