

Move to new campus nears final stretch

CH2M HILL and OMI have completed the first of three phases to consolidate all Denver-based staff on a single campus.

Staff moved into the South building in July and August. By the end of October the West building will be complete and ready for corporate staff. Construction continues on schedule for the North building, to be complete in December.

The design team took steps to enhance the working environment and keep costs in line with what it would have cost to lease and expand existing offices.
